Why does everyone get hung up on sugar levels with Riesling? Don't be too concerned about residual sugar. It's all about balance and refreshment! Remember, your Coca-Cola at lunch had 118g/l of sugar. Gross Gewachs wines have less than 10g/l of residual sugar, as well as any wines labeled Trocken.

Chardonnay is the tofu of the wine world. It eagerly accepts flavors like oak or even the terroir its grown in. We appreciate the "hands-off" approach, but there are some different examples below.

Chenin Blanc gets us out of bed everyday! We believe it's the most noble of wines. Showing itself brilliantly as dry, sweet, still or sparkling, the search for these wines along the banks of the Loire, as well as the communes of Vouvray, Montlouis, and Jasnières can make for a lifetime of enjoyment.

With its "roots" in Southern Burgundy, Gamay is the spawn of Pinot Noir.

Your first glass of good Burgundy may have very well been a "WOW" moment for you. It's special.
Few varietals garner such respect as the Pinots of the Côte de Nuits, in France.

If you like "bigger", more structured wines, Nebbiolo needs to be on your radar. It only makes up about 8% of all the grapes grown in Italy's Piedmont region. But this grape is grown more there, than anywhere else in the world.

Cab Franc is another house favorite. Although it's not as well known as its relatives, Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon, Cab Franc has a lot to offer. Styles can vary with climate, but acidity and herbaceousness reign throughout.
